

Hello,

The current folder contains the source code files. It includes three subfolders. The three subfolders represent SPLA white-box attacks under three different norm constraints. Within each norm constraint, there are two subfolders representing targeted and untargeted attacks, respectively.

Step 1: You can directly execute the SPLA attack by running the "SPLA\_Attack.py" code file in the targeted and untargeted attack subfolders under each norm constraint.